

KFS provides a full line of services in the food industry that create profit opportunities that other suppliers cannot match.

Product Research:

Detailed information on product options available to you that meet your product specifications, or that help you modify your specifications to take advantage of new innovative products on the market. We have 60 years experience in these markets and can generate useful information for you.

Worldwide Product Sourcing:

Cost minimization achieved through information on products available from domestic and foreign processors. We source products from North America, South America, Europe, Asia and Australia.

Pricing & Market Information:

Intelligent purchasing decisions are achieved by using information on current and future market conditions to time purchases to capture lowest cost points and adjust inventory levels based on market conditions.

Bid Solicitation Services:

For your convenience, we can solicit quotes from the primary processors in the industry that produce your high volume items and summarize them for you.

Brokering & Importing:

Lower costs are available to you because we are direct brokers and importers of many high volume seafood products from around the world. In this type of transaction, you own the cost from the processor.

Purchase Order Execution:

Convenience is our goal by managing purchasing (timed to capture lowest cost points) and all logistics to get products from processors to your establishment.

Quality Control Inspection:

Peace of mind is achieved by knowing that your products have been inspected by us to ensure compliance with net weights and quality standards that you have established.

USDA Inspected Processing:

Custom processing is available to you in our plant that operates under daily USDA inspection. Our QC systems include a high quality HACCP plan and inspectors verify daily compliance with this plan.

Cold Storage under USDA Inspection:

KFS storage abilities provide you with the ability to purchase larger volumes of product if necessary to minimize freight costs and take advantage of low market conditions.

Distribution & Delivery:

Convenient delivery service to your establishment is achieved in a professional and reliable manner.

Consulting:

We help our customers with their purchasing and logistics needs in every way possible.
